

REMARKS

The Examiner is thanked for his office action of December 18, 2008. In that office action, he rejected all the claims as anticipated by Jaynes (5,504,302). Claims 1 and 3 have been amended to better reflect the invention and remove and "intended function" language that is objectionable to the Examiner (in claims 1, 3, 9-11). Additionally, claims 4-11 now reflect a proper dependencies. For the reasons stated below, the rejections are now improper, especially in view of the clarified claims.

102 rejection

The examiner rejected claims 1-3 under 35 USC 102 as anticipated by Jaynes. This is erroneous, because Jaynes does not show a handrail for a tarpaulin. The Examiner has not addressed this particular issue as the tarpaulin is a vital feature of claims 1-3 (and dependent claims) and he may not have thought the language of the claims required examination of this feature. Claims 1 and 9 have once again been amended to clarify this feature, which is not shown in Jaynes. Once again, Jaynes teaches a lighted handrail fasted directly to the hull or other solid surface of the boat and thus cannot anticipate the vital feature of claims 1, 3, 7 and 9 (and the dependent claims). Because the "intended function" language, as interpreted by the Examiner, has been removed from the claims, Jaynes is not an appropriate reference.

Conclusion

Claims 1-11 are pending in the application. Claims 1-11 are believed to be allowable over the cited prior art as none of the cited prior art teaches a handrail (and the various components) attached to the tarpaulin.

Should the Examiner believe that an in-person or telephonic conference would expedite prosecution of this application, he is invited to contact the Applicant's counsel at the number listed below.
